

Dear Parents,

Happy New Year to all of you! It has been fun this week having all of the kids back filling the building with lots of activity, fun and laughter! This is just a quick update about what is happening around the Nock as we start 2015.

If you have driven by our school I hope you have noticed that the construction trailers have been moved off of the property. We still have a fence and a couple of dumpsters out there to remove before we are completely back to normal. The punch list has grown much smaller over the last few weeks and we are all thankful that this renovation is nearing completion!

Our Geography Bee finalists will be competing in our library on Wednesday, January 14th from 2:15-3:30. We have finalists from grades 6-8 and all are welcome to come and cheer them on!

Jan Krusemark, Our Physical Education teacher, will be starting a volleyball club in the gym on Fridays beginning January 16th. The club will run after school from 2-3. This is a great way for students in grades 6-8 to stay active in this cold weather. All are welcome!

Wizard of Oz tickets are now on sale! Students from Molin, Nock and the High School have been working hard in preparation for the theatrical production. Tickets can be purchased by using the following link.

Have a great weekend and stay warm,
Beth
